Durable Laminate & All the Style

Elevate your kitchen's aesthetic with the timeless appeal of stainless steel doors. They not only maintain optimal temperature for your food and drinks, but also add a touch of sleek sophistication.

These doors are made of High Pressure Laminate (HPL) that mimics the appearance of stainless steel, but without the hefty price tag or maintenance hassle.

The Stainless

This is a single-piece, slab-style door that is HPL laminate on two sides with a matching edge-banding on four sides. At the core is a recycled wood substrate (not MDF), which is highly moisture resistant and has unsurpassed sustainability credentials.
